Arrowtown – Where history meets nature

CHARMING ARROWTOWN IS A “MUST-DO” WHEN VISITING QUEENSTOWN.

Arrowtown is a quaint heritage village enveloped by beautiful mountain scenery – only 20 minutes from Queenstown.

Its standout is its famous high street. This is a lovely string of historic buildings, which opens to a tree-lined avenue sheltering one of New Zealand’s most photographed sites – a delightful row of nineteenth century miners’ cottages.

The pretty town sprang from the 1860s rush for the fabulous Arrow River’s gold. Today it is the centre of an equally fabulous network of cycling and walking trails, scenic lookouts, and golf courses.

While Arrowtown is “snapshot heaven”, it is not a gingerbread re-creation. It is a working village, alive with cafés, shops, bars, art galleries and people soaking up the feel of a special place.

A LUCKY START

It was “Maori Jack” Tewa, a shearer, who found gold in the Arrow River in 1862. But – as is the way – a pushier European, William Fox, made bigger waves, and the town started life called “Fox’s”. Fifteen hundred miners worked the river below the emerging Buckingham Street township. Many were Chinese, who built a separate village still viewable today.

As gold ran out, the town became a fading rural backwater. With no pressure to replace the old, it kept its heritage heart, so more than 70 historic sites remain. Its resurgence as a holiday place began in the 1950s, and luckily the importance of the town's picturesque old buildings was understood. Arrowtown was 2023 winner the most beautiful small town.

maps, bookings, and any other help you need to enjoy your visit. Inside the museum the extensive exhibition showcases the development of a fledgling gold rush town to the modern tourist destination of today, with plenty of interactive displays to intrigue adults and amuse children. Alternatively hire a gold pan and head down to the river to try your luck!

The Information Centre also hosts a book and gift shop with a wide range of New Zealand travel, culture, history and children’s books, as well as high quality crafts, gifts and jewellery to take home as treasured souvenirs of your visit.

The Gallery is free to enter and showcases a diverse range of exhibitions by renowned local and national artists, with many desirable pieces displayed and available for purchase.

OUR HERITAGE TOWN

Since 1862 Arrowtown has been building its rich history, and around every corner there is something new to discover. From Arrowtown’s oldest remaining building, the wooden police hut from 1863, to shops, banks and homes built in local schist stone from the 1870s.

Buckingham Street is memorable. Voted New Zealand’s Most Beautiful Main Street, here you can wander past historic buildings, imagining a scene largely unchanged since the 1880s; browse, relax or indulge in its irresistible charm. Amongst the vibrant town centre you’ll notice the first buildings that helped establish this miners camp, from Pritchard’s General Store, now the Pharmacy, to Athenaeum Hall, the Post Office and Postmasters House. Across the street, the old Bank of New Zealand, now the Lakes District Museum, is a reminder that Arrowtown was founded on gold. Don’t miss the laneways that open into courtyards filled with more shops and eateries.

Beyond Buckingham Street lies the Avenue of Trees, planted in 1867, which towers above the famous row of wooden Miners Cottages, now housing cafés, shops and businesses. Go further to find Arrowtown Gaol from 1876, one of the few remaining gold mining era gaols in the country.

Ramshaw Lane runs parallel to Buckingham Street towards the Arrow River. Once a service lane, it’s now a shopping and dining hub. Look closely for the 1870 Grocery Store’s Stone Storehouse before following Bush Creek to the Arrow River and the X-Marks The Spot sign where the gold rush began.

Butler’s Green and Dudley’s Precinct offer another pocket of discovery with the original Police Hut and Dudley’s Cottage. A little further is Arrowtown’s renowned Chinese Settlement, free to explore, telling the story of its early Chinese community who lived separately but worked alongside Europeans.

Wider afield are historic churches and the connection with Catholic Saint Mary MacKillop. On the town’s edge, Soldiers Hill and Cenotaph provide reflection and sweeping views back towards Arrowtown.

Arrowtown

One golden village, two tales...

TOHU WHENUA

Landmarks that tell our stories

TOHU WHENUA ARE THE PLACES THAT HAVE SHAPED AOTEAROA NEW ZEALAND. LOCATED IN STUNNING LANDSCAPES AND RICH WITH STORIES, THEY OFFER SOME OF OUR BEST HERITAGE EXPERIENCES.

TOHUWHENUA.NZ/REGIONS/OTAGO/ARROWTOWN/

Sites chosen as Tohu Whenua are places that have shaped our nation and created our defining stories. Together they form a network of Aotearoa New Zealand’s best heritage experiences, to make it easy for visitors to find the places where they can connect with our past and the stories that define our identity.

2 ARTS & GALLERIES

Look a little closer and you will find a wide range of galleries featuring art and sculpture. Hidden up laneways or in converted churches and sheds, they are there for you to discover and many have the artists crafting on site. Contemporary works by local and international talent highlight Arrowtown's vibrant and diverse art scene. Whether you're a seasoned collector or simply an admirer of creativity, exploring Arrowtown's galleries promises a journey of artistic discovery.

3 DESTINATION SHOPPING

Arrowtown is a popular destination for boutique shopping. Most shops are independently owned and operated, with carefully curated selections of clothes, gifts, crafts, books, wines and curiosities. Speciality designer and leisure wear is available, alongside outdoor adventure clothing and merino knitwear. Gift and speciality craft shops offer plenty of ideas for presents or souvenirs, as well as, artisan jewellery, finely crafted pounamu and, of course, gold! Finally shop and sample wines from across the region before deciding on your favourite drop to take home.

4 EAT & DRINK

Arrowtown is home to an extensive number of restaurants, pubs and bars, competing with Queenstown for some of the best places to dine in the district. From locals favourites and family friendly establishments to respected fine dining spots. Each venue offers its own unique atmosphere with global cuisine and fusion dishes crafted by talented chefs. Delicious breakfast and brunch cafes transform at night to offer “trust the chef” tasting menus, with something unique and different every time. Serious foodies, pub grub aficionados and pie shop patrons are sure to go home smiling.

5 THE CHINESE SETTLEMENT

As the initial gold rush subsided in the late 1860s the New Zealand Government invited Chinese miners to help support the economy but as their numbers grew relations became more strained. They were consigned away from the European settlement on Buckingham Street to the colder shadows of Bush Creek. However, collaboration and trade still flourished and the Chinese contributed greatly to the development of the town. The remains of the village were restored in the 1980's and the area has been a popular attraction ever since, now a nationally recognised Tohu Whenua site.

6 MORE TO EXPLORE

Arrowtown is so much more than a day trip or stop off. If you've enjoyed breakfast or lunch, then you might as well join us for dinner. Arrowtown transforms at night to reveal a whole new side to explore. As our retail scene closes for the day, our historic buildings are illuminated with colourful light and the evening crowd descends as our bars and laneways come alive. Our restaurants offer alfresco dining in the summer or cosy wood fires in winter. Live music can often be heard wafting over the roof tops as you edge closer to discover where the latest local talent is playing.

Or discover the boutique cinema down the laneway offering artisan and mainstream movies that can be enjoyed over wine and a cheese board or hot chocolate and popcorn.

The Autumn Festival arrives to mark the end of the summer season as Arrowtown becomes famously ablaze with colour. Rich golds and reds transform the hill faces around, as well as the mature heritage trees which line our streets. Autumn is a very special time indeed as the environment and locals put on quite the show.

In winter, the mountain's snow-capped peaks arrive and the districts multiple slopes come alive with skiers and boarders to enjoy our crystal-clear blue-sky days. Arrowtown then becomes the Après ski destination of choice and a great place to take a rest and explore from long days up the mountain. Mulled wine and log fires await as you emerge from the frosty air.

So, however you choose to enjoy this special place, we are here to welcome you and offer something memorable for everyone to enjoy.

Sustainable Arrowtown

Here in Arrowtown we're doing all we can to protect, restore and enhance the stunning landscapes that surround us. We pride ourselves on being good stewards of the environment.

The natural environment has been heavily modified by humans over hundreds of years, but now residents, businesses and landowners are working together to restore it. And they're doing it in a way that balances expanding biodiversity with retaining the features that make Arrowtown special.

The Arrowtown Choppers and the Arrowtown Wilding Group have removed thousands of exotic trees that were taking over the hillsides, and planting non-invasive species that do well in difficult locations and give a display of colour in autumn. Volunteers from the Whakatipu Reforestation Trust have been planting natives to create wildlife corridors that attract native birds and insects, using seedlings from their nursery at Kelvin Heights.

Predator Free Arrowtown's trapping programme aims to eradicate pest species like weasels, stoats, possums and rats. Their traplines extend high into the mountains to create a sanctuary for native creatures in and around Arrowtown.

Arrowtown is also working towards SUC-free status, which will mean that we send no single-use cups to landfill. Instead coffee and tea drinkers are encouraged to sit at the café, bring their own or take it away in a reusable cup. Please look for the logo in participating cafés and restaurants.

Our natural enviroment

Famously, Arrowtown is the place where history meets nature. It was the gold in the Arrow River that first drew European settlers here in the 1860s, today people continue to be drawn by the crystal-clear waters and outstanding beauty presented by our natural environment.

There are many ways to engage and enjoy what Arrowtown's surroundings has to offer. Whether it is a leisurely stroll along the water's edge or a bike ride that stretches out behind Arrowtown's idyllic setting, you are sure to feel refreshed and rejuvenated having absorbed the outdoors, whatever the season.

WALKING

You can enjoy leisurely walks around the Chinese Settlement and Bush Creek or take the longer 4km loop circuit along the stunning Millenium Trail beside the Arrow River. Stoll through the historic streets and find the many residential parks, reserves and playgrounds, perfect to while away the hours with children or enjoy a family picnic.

HIKING

Feeling more adventurous, head up Tobin's Track (1-2hr return) ascending beyond the tree line to enjoy views back towards Arrowtown and down across the entire Wakatipu Basin. Go further still with back country trails including the Sawpit Gully and New Chums Gully Tracks or over Big Hill towards abandoned Macetown. Please research these routes and prepare properly before setting off as things can change rapidly in our alpine environment.

BIKING

Biking is an ever growing past-time in Arrowtown. The Queenstown Trail passes through Arrowtown along the Arrow River and beyond down towards the Gibbston Valley Wine Region and the famous Kawarau Bungy Bridge. For the more seasoned mountain biker, enjoy the 50km Coronet Loop trail or bike the spectacular new Wharehuanui Trail linking Arrowtown to Arthurs Point. A number of operators offer a number of operators offer Mountain and E-Bike hire in Arrowtown.

GOLF

Arrowtown is also spoilt for choice when it comes to enjoying the outdoors while golfing. Choose from any of the world class courses including Millbrook Resort, The Hills and Arrowtown Golf Club which boarder Arrowtown's southern side.

Stay in Arrowtown

Arrowtown is a beautiful central base to enjoy the region.

While it is vibrant and intriguing, it is also quieter and easy to get around than Queenstown. Choices from luxury resort, hotels, motels, B&Bs, and a good motor camp with cabins.
